Taking care of every aspect of your cloud environment - including cloud security, data back-up, storage, application stacks, disaster recovery and more – we'll ensure your cloud operations run smoothly and efficiently at a fixed and predictable cost.

Tailored to the exact needs of your business, our dedicated round-the-clock managed services release your teams from having to undertake time-consuming routine monitoring and maintenance tasks.

Dedicated to making sure your business-critical systems, applications and data continue to perform as expected, with no unpredicted costs, we do much more than simply help ensure your cloud platform and operational processes run smoothly and efficiently.

As part of our service, we'll proactively monitor of your cloud consumption and ensure your critical workloads and services are continually optimised.

Our catalogue of ready-to-go automated services eliminate many of the manual processes that are prone to human error. Which means that routine tasks like patching or the automatic provisioning of virtual machines in the cloud is undertaken in a fast, efficient and error-free manner.

Plus, because our services are AI powered, they're able to identify recurring problems and undertake root causes analysis so that these get resolved once and for all.
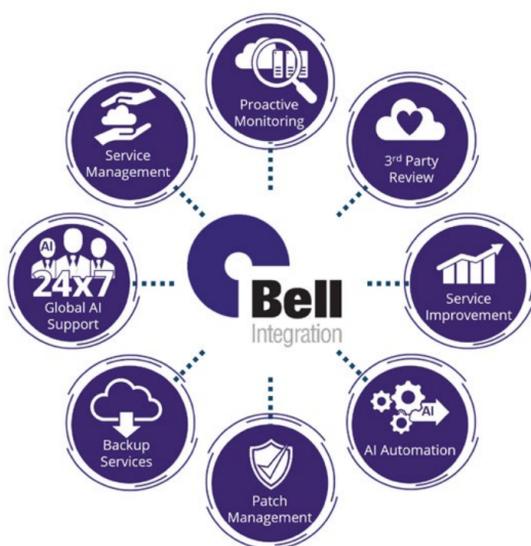

Our managed services give you:

Operational efficiency – we take care of all cloud infrastructure and operations, undertaking performance, availability and capacity management on your behalf. Every aspect of your environment is constantly monitored, tested and reported upon and we ensure you stay in the know where the cost and performance of your entire infrastructure is concerned.

Security and compliance – our experts ensure you stay fully compliant with ever changing guidelines and policies and that security best practices are applied to your systems.

Future proofed performance – we'll ensure your environment is right-sized to cope with current demand and can be evolved fast as workloads change. We make it possible to embrace new workloads and infrastructure without risk, so you can deliver new services and applications faster for users.

Proactive support – from incident management to detecting and resolving issues before they impact your business to helping you manage cost and drive value from your cloud investment, we don't just maintain your day-to-day operations – we also help you drive your cloud vision forward.

An end-to-end solution

As nimble as you need us to be, we're on hand to support and guide you through the entire cloud lifecycle.

In addition to our Cloud Managed Services, our next generation cloud solutions include:

- Cloud Services that make it easy to adopt a 'cloud smart' approach to digital transformation
- Cloud Migration services that get you to the cloud faster
- Cloud Services that make it easy to adopt a 'cloud smart' approach to digital transformation
