Dedicated to helping every type of business accelerate innovation without compromising BAU, Bell Integration’s cost-effective IT sourcing solutions deliver the strategic and dedicated operational support you need – the moment you need it.

Whether you’re looking for skilled or qualified resources to handle major change or migration projects, or simply want to tap into additional capacity or personnel who can take care of core infrastructure services at a predictive fixed price, our specialists will hit the ground running – and integrate fast with your business.

Your rapidly evolving IT environment means you need to be able to tap into specialist IT and engineering talent fast. These skills will allow you to press ahead with new technology deployments, stay on top of day-to-day IT operations, and handle staff resource, or knowledge gaps, with minimal complexity, friction or delay.

Our professional services enable you to:

- Jump-start new projects and respond at speed - to new business demands, orchestrating IT transformation on your terms
- Handle complex short-term requirements – access the specialist know-how and resources you need to get up and running with a new technology
- Augment or flex your existing staff – in line with changing skills/manpower needs
- Handle routine activities – releasing internal teams to focus on where they are needed most
- Support ongoing, dynamic and changing needs – utilising a smarter way to keep pace with shifting market demands
- Initiate global support – deliver people and know-how where it’s needed

As a leading IT consulting and systems integrator, we have an impressive track record when it comes to empowering organisations to achieve technology outcomes – and business objectives – faster.

We provide qualified professionals that are certified and security-cleared with extensive industry experience covering technology and project management. We offer every level of IT professional - from engineers to architects, admins, project directors and programme managers.

Our managed resource services give you:

Choice - Stay in control of delivery and outcomes, or, let us take full responsibility for delivery and resource management while working in conjunction with your staff and other third-party organisations. Our people can work on-site, off-site, and anywhere in between.

Coverage - As vendor agnostic specialists, we provide people experienced at operating in any technology environment. Our onboard skills matrix covers everything from automation to the cloud, network security, data and analytics, as well as end-user and ITSM.

Cost Efficiency - Take advantage of fixed price and T&M options that are transparent, predictable and easy to administrate.

Tried and Tested Resources - All our people are permanent employees who are background checked, experienced, and tried and tested in-role. Plus, we invest in our professionals’ ongoing training and development to continually hone and update their skills and know-how.

Geographic Reach - We deliver in multiple geographies including the US, India, Singapore and Europe. We provide a flexible and quality resourcing solution that’s consistently delivered and managed.

Reporting - You’ll gain monthly updates on everything from resource alignments, SLA and performance monitoring, and financials, to improvement initiatives.

We can augment your existing team providing the right amount of skilled resources exactly when and where they are required
